AN EXCITED CROWD ON KING STREET.

LARGE GATHERINGS ANXIOUS FOR A LYNCHING—THIRSTY FOR BLOOD—A DISAPPOINTED CROWD.

There was blood on the moon last night and, as had been the case twice recently, hordes of people, mostly young, were clamoring for the excitement incident to a lynching. There was a thirst for blood, and when it was learned that the object of mob vengeance had been spirited out of the city there was exasperation and disappointment.

The game had flown and the would-be avengers became sulky and at a late hour sauntered toward their homes as sulkily as boys who had been kept from attending a circus. They probably feel better this morning than they would have been the case had they dropped into their beds with the picture of an unhappy wretch hanging from a lamp post on their retinas.

Early yesterday morning the story of the crime for which Willis Pettie had been arrested was industriously circulated and its horrors added to and extravagantly described. Youngsters in knee pants whose reading consists mostly of the Jesse James series of classic stood with open mouths and listened to the vivid descriptions of the assault and the burning alive, flying and hanging of culprits in other places. Thrills of gleeful shot through them akin to those incited by a bonfire on a circus band wagon, and by dark all who could escape the eyes of anxious parents were corralled on curbstones on King street anxiously anticipating the butchery of a human being. Cassius Brenner, an ex-policeman, who had tarried rather long at the wine, mounted a nail keg and with gleaming eyes and the souls of the fledglings by demanding in the name of an outraged community immediate vengeance upon the hapless Pettie. A policeman brought the harangue to an abrupt termination by carrying the orator to the station house. This morning the Mayor fined him $10 and in default of payment he will be sent to the chain gang.

The crowd grew visibly every minute, and King street from Washington to Fairfax became as thick with people as when a parade is passing. There was blood in the air but no disorder. The police kept in view and there were no serious demonstrations, although the firing of a pistol or a dog fight would probably have precipitated trouble.

While all this was going on the query, "Where has Pettie been sent?" was asked over and over. No one could give a satisfactory answer. The police knew, but their lips were hermetically sealed. Some thought the prisoner was in the county jail. It seemed as though he was from the fact that no answer could be obtained from telephone calls made to the county. Numbers left the city and proceeded to the new county courthouse, and either satisfied themselves he was not there or were apprehensive of the results of a demonstration and left the neighborhood.

Bands of men from certain points in the county are said to have been on the lookout for Pettie. Fairfax Courthouse was finally fixed upon as the place where Pettie had been taken. The telephone was soon jangling there. The answer quickly came to the effect that the prisoner was not there. The crowd grew restive. The "fun" had been spoiled. They were destined to return to their homes with their morbid appetites unsatisfied.

Evidently a few thought somebody ought to be lynched on general principles, and that the crowd should not be compelled to stray off without some experience to produce pleasant dreams.

The particulars concerning the crime for which Pettie was arrested were given in yesterday's Gazette. When he was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday morning Dr. A. A. Bittenour, who is attending Mr. Payne, Pettie's alleged victim, stated that his patient was not in condition to appear in court, and Mayor Simpson continued the hearing until such time as he may be able to appear. As Pettie was being led back to the prisoner's room he turned and assuaged his innocence, claiming that he was at home when the alleged assault was committed. This statement, however, does not correspond with the charges made by the accused when he was arrested Thursday night. At that time he admitted having been with the woman, and his story tallied with her's except as to the assault.

The mutterings yesterday morning made it evident that should the prisoner be kept in Alexandria the scenes of 1897-99 would be reproduced. A certain class talked of nothing else but summary vengeance, and the more conservative element had no more effect upon the would-be lynchers than whistling against a northwest wind would have produced. There was a growing determination to have a lynching, and that was more manifest as the day grew older.

At twenty minutes to three in the afternoon Pettie was taken from his cell and escorted by Policemen Young and Beach up Cameron street to Pitt. At that point, in front of Myers's livery stable, they were met by a large double-seated dayton wagon with two horses, which was closely covered. Pettie was quickly loaded into the rear seat of the carriage with Policemen Beach. Policemen Smith drove the carriage and the party started for their destination. A small number of people followed the carriage for some distance. A resident of this city who was driving in Fairfax county states he met the prisoner and officers on their way to Fairfax Court House. If this be true, which it is believed to be, Pettie is in the Fairfax Court House jail. He will be kept there until the excitement subsides.

Mayor Simpson when approached this morning refused positively to discuss anything concerning the removal of Pettie from this city, and would answer no questions in connection with the case.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne came to this city about three months ago from Fredericksburg. Mr. Payne is employed at the Columbia brick works in Alexandria county. He is a white man about thirty-five years of age, and has two small children.

BRICKLAYERS STRIKE.—Thirty bricklayers including some from this city, employed in the construction of buildings at the Washington navy yard struck yesterday morning because the government refused to pay them the rate of wages fixed by their union. The rate established by the bricklayers' union is $4.50 per day for eight hours' work. The employees at the navy yard receive only $4 per day for the same number of hours of labor. The strike yesterday was the result of the refusal of the government officials to increase the wages of the navy yard employees to equal that received by other members of the union from employers throughout the District. Six bricklayers employed at the Washington navy yard refused to obey the strike order to quit work. According to the action of the union these members are liable to a fine of $100 each. A tentative agreement was reached almost immediately between the strike committee and government officials whereby the strike has virtually been settled to the entire satisfaction of the bricklayers without embarrassing the navy department. It is learned from thoroughly reliable sources that Assistant Secretary Hackett has granted the advance conditionally.

POLICE COURT.—The following cases were disposed of today:

W. C. Brenner, charged with attempting to incite a riot, was fined $10, or given 30 days on the chain gang.

Ferdinand Patton, charged with being drunk in the street, was given thirty days.

A man, charged with assault and defacing the property of Emma Phillips, was dismissed.

Moile P. Piper, colored, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5.

Dollie Jenkins, colored, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5.

Thomas Jerome, colored, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was dismissed.

John Harris, colored, charged with incorrigibility, was dismissed.

David Minor, colored, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was dismissed.

Night Report.—Last night was clear and warm until about two o'clock when it became cloudy. Seven prisoners and two lodgers were at the station house.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.—Maurice Bevers, a ten-year-old boy, had a narrow escape from drowning in the river at the foot of Third street southeast, Washington, shortly before noon yesterday. With several of his companions, who were in bathing, he was playing about a wharf and fell into the water. Bevers is just learning to swim, and the place where he went down is about fifteen feet deep. Fortunately, Captain Frank Dixon, of the schooner Ella Hill, of this port, and Thomas O'Brien, of the pumping plant nearby, heard the cries of his companions, and, running to the wharf, united in rescuing the youth. The little fellow was somewhat stunned and received several bruises about his legs as the result of coming in contact with one of the wharf timbers during his descent.

FINED FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT.—A fine of $50 was imposed on Alvin C. Millar, manager of Nelson's variety store at Seventh and H streets, Washington, by Judge O'Donnell, of the Police Court, yesterday on a charge of having assaulted Miss Minnie Freund, a young white girl who applied to him for work. According to her testimony she went to the store July 23 in response to an advertisement and was requested by Millar to return at 6 o'clock in the evening. Then Millar is alleged to have taken the girl into the office and made improper advances to her. The interview ended in a struggle, according to the girl, in which her hand was bruised.

PERSONAL.—Messrs. Wm. P. Taylor, Louis P. Woodward and H. L. Reed have returned from a ten day's trip to Rehoboth Beach, Del.

Mrs. James Monroe Love, who has been visiting with her mother, Mrs. W. B. Daingerfield, at Fort Chiswell, has gone to Wytheville. It will be recalled that Mrs. Daingerfield had a very painful fall a few nights ago at Fort Chiswell. From this she is rapidly recovering.

Mr. H. A. Downham sprained an ankle while walking on the street last evening and is confined to his home.

Judge Norton has gone to his farm near Lynton station, where he will spend a few weeks.

Mr. Joseph P. Smith has returned from London.

The Misses Graves and Mrs. Herbert C. Graves have returned with a large party of Alexandrians and Virginians from a ten day's trip to Rehoboth Beach, Delaware.

Miss Fanny Dixon Dixon has gone to Elbow, New Jersey, on a visit.

Mrs. R. T. McVeigh has returned from a visit to her mother and brother at Spring Lake, Michigan.

Dr. Hugh McGraw has returned from a short visit to Cobourg, Ontario, Canada.

Mrs. Herbert Zeit, Frank Mander and Jerry Kaufman have returned from Colonial Beach.

Mr. Benoit Wheat is sick at his home on Duke street.

ACCIDENTS.—Mr. James H. Witbeck, a machinist at the shops of the Southern Railway Company in this city, was seriously injured while at work on a lathe this afternoon. He was forced by a lathe against a wall and terribly mangled before it could be stopped. The unfortunate man was taken to his home on north Patrick street where he was attended by Dr. O'Brien. Mr. Witbeck had run the same lathe for twenty-five years.

Mr. George Tebb, a fireman on the Southern Railway, was very badly scalded by the explosion of the arch pipe of his engine at Midland station early this morning. He was brought to this city and taken to the Infirmary where Dr. O'Brien rendered surgical assistance. His condition is critical.

CLOSING OF THE JUBILEE YEAR.—The special blessings of the jubilee year may be said to have ended on Sunday of September by all who have complied with the requisite conditions. Those who have been unable to fulfill these conditions will have an opportunity of doing so by joining in the public visit to St. Mary's Church on tomorrow and September 1st, at 5 o'clock p. m.

Each of these days, men must meet at the Lyceum Hall and proceed to the church in a body, bearing receiving Holy Communion not later than Sunday, September 1st. These arrangements are made by Bishop Van De Vyver to facilitate the gaining of the indulgence by men who, on account of business or other cause, could not comply with conditions laid down and already explained.

THE CITY'S GRAPE CROP.—Many people in this city have been greatly disappointed this year at the almost total failure of their vines to bring grapes to perfection. At the beginning of the summer there was every indication that the crop would be an average one, but as the season advanced the fruit was noticed to be drying up or shriveling, and this has continued until some vines will fail to produce a single bunch. It has not been so, however, in all cases. In a few instances vines have been so prolific as formerly and average crops will be gathered. The cause of the trouble is not positively known, some attributing it to one thing and some to another.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—Eugene F. Root yesterday filed suit in Washington against the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company to recover $15,000 claimed as damages for personal injuries. The litigation is the outgrowth of the head-on collision between two of the cars of the defendant, which occurred near Addison station on the morning of March 25 last. Root states that he was a passenger aboard the car going north and as a result of the collision, he says, he was severely injured about his head and that his spine and kidneys have been permanently injured.

THE MARKET THIS MORNING was not overstocked with country produce, on account of the rainy weather, although the supply was about equal to the demand, as the number of buyers was somewhat contracted for the same reason. Prices in the main had undergone no material changes. There was a copious shower about ten o'clock which rendered marketing a disagreeable feature. It was, however, a necessity and buyers flocked to and from and accomplished the purpose of their visit with as much alacrity as possible.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.—Oscar Brown, colored, arrived in Washington last night from Culpeper, suffering from severe injuries, as the result of being struck by a freight engine of the Southern Railway at that point. Some days ago Brown went to Culpeper on a visit to friends. He was walking on the railroad tracks near the town, it is said, Thursday night, and was struck by a freight engine and painfully hurt. Brown was thrown from the track, badly cut and bruised, but no bones were broken.

FUNERAL.—The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Arnold took place from her late residence on south Lee street yesterday evening, and was attended by a number of relatives and friends of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Hallam, of Del Ray. The pallbearers were: Messrs. John Naylor, George Hall, Charles Nagel, A. Richardson, Samuel Cavillier and Thomas Warner.

REIGNED.—Mr. Wm. H. Smith today resigned his position as City Sergeant and Mr. R. H. Cox has been appointed in his stead. The latter qualified today and entered upon the discharge of his duties.

NEXT WEEK will be the ending sale on summer goods for the season at Schwarz's, 515 King street. The season's purchase has nearly been sold out, and nothing is to remain if less than cost prices will move them. You can come to your own conclusion and figure out what this sale means.
